Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from General Grant: The Nation s Hero; Sketches of His Life From West Point to Mt; McGregor Tilghman and his staff, of the Confederate army, hurried out of town toward the south by the railroad while Grant was getting ashore. Sixteen miles away a force of 3,800 Confederates were stationed, and Confederate flags and stores were numerous in the town. Grants promptitude saved Paducah and the control of the Ohio river. It also straightened the backbone of neutral Kentucky, whose legislature at once passed resolutions favorable to the Union and spoke of neutrality no more., In this movement Grant defined the determination which afterwards was so marked and commented upon in his generalship. He left Paducah in charge of a garrison at noon the same day and returned to Cairo, where he received Fremont s permission to take Paducah if he felt strong enough. For two months afterwards he held the country at the junction of the Ohio and Mississippi and disciplined bis forces, which by November numbered nearly 20, 000 men. Being subordinate to Fremont...
