Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Report of the Chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, 1933 The ultimate application of an effective land-use program must be largely in terms of specific areas. This requires special study of the conditions, problems, and prospects of particular regions. Such a study was completed last year of land utilization in 13 hill towns of Vermont characterized by extensive farm abandon ment. This study revealed clearly the waste and misery that attend the slow natural adjustment Of an old settled area to the forces of decline and showed forcefully the need for a prompt and energetic program of reorganization with the help of the State.
