

The Legend of the Trailing Arbutus (Classic Reprint)

By Minnie Olive Hess

Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Legend of the Trailing Arbutus There is a beautiful legend connected with the dainty trailing arbutus, which runs as follows: The arbutus, most delicate and fragrant of all our wild flowers, was created as a climbing vine to cover Eve's bower in the Garden of Eden. She tended and watered the lovely plant, and learned to love it above all other flowers in the Garden. After the fall and banishment of our first parents from Paradise, the arbutus vine became so lonely and missed Eve so greatly that it crept down from its bower and trailed through the Garden and out into the world in search of her who loved it. It is still seeking her through woods and waste places in a search that never ends, and each springtime sends forth the delicate fragrance of its pink and white blossoms to tell of its faithfulness. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at This book is a reproduction of an important historical work...

READ ONLINE
[4.33 MB]

Reviews

An incredibly awesome publication with perfect and lucid reasons. It can be written in simple phrases and not confusing. I am just delighted to let you know that this is actually the very best publication I actually have studied during my very own lifestyle and could be the best publication for actually.

-- Paula Gutkowski

Most of these pdfs are the greatest pdfs available. It is really basic but excitement inside the fifty percent from the ebook. Your daily life span will likely be converted as soon as you complete reading this article ebook.

-- Juwan Welch Sr.