Excerpt: .Boyden Son, paid $1300 for the note, acquired it before maturity and had no notice of any altera-8. Uniform Negotiable Instruments Act, Sec. 125. M. Mwright T. Boyden, 191 Illinois Reports, 138. tion. The defense was based on two theories: (1) That the note as originally delivered contained the figures $100 in the margin, and the words one hundred dollars in the body of the note, and that the figures $100 were altered to read $1300, and the word one before hundred was erased, and the word thirteen inserted in its stead; or (2) That the word one was not in the body of the note, but that there was a blank space in which the word thirteen had been inserted. The court in the course of its opinion said: First, If the note was altered by (the first method) then the alteration amounted...
